

finding God in my life

As your textbook states, the Catholic belief about sacraments is that “God communicates through the people, places, actions, events, and experiences that shape a person’s life.” Consider the meaning of this statement in your own life by reflecting on the following questions and writing brief responses in the space provided.

Name a person who helped to shape your life and describe how she or he did so. Tell why you think this person was able to influence you.

Name a place that helped to shape your life and explain why it did so.

Name an action that helped to shape your life. Describe this action and explain why it was so influential.

Name an event that helped to shape your life. Describe this event and explain why it was so influential.

Name an experience that helped to shape your life and explain how it did so.
