

What It Means to Be Human

We learn what it means to be human in many ways. We learn from our family and friends, our larger society, and our faith community. Work with a partner to list some characteristics that come to us from society and from Jesus' teachings that describe what it means to be human. Place each characteristic in the appropriate column.

Society	Jesus

