

We'd Like to Know: Possible Questions While Visiting Other Churches

In your visit to a different Christian Church, be prepared to ask the church's representative some thoughtful questions about what they believe, their mission, and their worship. Here are some questions to start with. You might also think of other questions.

What does your Church believe about Jesus?

Why do you use the word pastor instead of priest?

What does your Church believe about Mary?

Do you have a creed? What is it?

What do you teach about how we come to know God?

What do you believe about the Trinity?

What is your congregation's mission?

What do you believe about salvation?

What do you teach about achieving holiness?

Do you have altar servers or acolytes?

How is your worship structured?

What do you believe about the Eucharist or Holy Communion?

How is your denomination organized?

What is the most important part of your Sunday service?

How does your congregation reach out to others?
