Essay

- A. Explain why we need to carefully consider the sinful possibilities of technological advancements.

Answers should include some of the following points:

Technological advancements are allowing us to do things that were not even imagined a hundred, fifty, fifteen, or even five years ago. Opening the door to certain possibilities can potentially lead to disaster. The problem with technological advancements is that we cannot look into the future to see how these decisions will affect us individually and as a society. We should not play the role of God, and we must be extremely careful that we do not create the conditions for sin. It is important to acknowledge the goodness of God's creation and that we should not mess with the natural order that God set in place.
