

A Sacred Family Meal

Think of a favorite family celebration. Tell about that special day. Is it a holiday? What day is it?

Who comes to your celebration?
What usually happens as people arrive?

Are there stories that get told every year? If so, briefly summarize one of them. How do you share the family history?

What do people usually bring to the celebration?
Is there a special dish that is always part of the meal? Is there something that only one person can make?

Are there family traditions around the meal?

How else do people show their love for each other?

As people leave, is there any talk of the next time the family will gather?
