

Laws to Live By Today

- Leviticus 19:9–10. How could the spirit of this law be followed today?
- Leviticus 19:11. How does this law relate to modern attitudes toward income taxes, testimony in court, the setting of prices, and the destruction of reputations through gossip, published articles, or books?
- Leviticus 19:13. What does this law tell us about the situation of the working poor and our duties, in justice, to them?
- Leviticus 19:14. Do we put stumbling blocks in front of people with disabilities today, for instance, in parking lots? in buildings? in employment? anywhere else?
- Leviticus 19:15. Does our society treat weak or poor people differently than it does rich or powerful people? Cite some examples.
- Leviticus 19:16. Can you recall any news stories about people standing by idly while a neighbor was killed or assaulted?
- Leviticus 19:17. Give an example of how we might incur sin because of our hatred for someone. Can the law apply to nations as well as to individuals?
- Leviticus 19:18. List four practical examples of how this law could be followed in your own life.
- Leviticus 19:33. How does this law relate to our treatment of migrant workers, undocumented aliens, refugees, and immigrants?
- Leviticus 19:35. Give an example of how this law could be applied in a business today. Be specific about the kind of business.
