Welcome

Welcome to Discover! Finding Faith in Life. This exciting program is designed to help children fully engage in the process of discovering and growing in the richness of their Catholic faith, making deep faith a central part of their everyday lives.

The lessons within the Discover! Finding Faith in Life program are designed to foster a clear understanding of the concepts presented through an active-learning approach. This method brings lessons to life in a fun and memorable way through experiential and interactive processes. Core principles of faith are introduced in a way that allows children to discover meaning and develop understanding while being immersed in solid Catholic teaching and in the prayers and practices that build Catholic identity.

The Catholic Children's Bible (and the Bible story booklet for kindergarten) are the core texts of this program, rooting the key concepts of each chapter in important Scripture passages. This serves to promote biblical literacy and an in-depth familiarity with and knowledge of key Scripture stories throughout the Old and New Testaments, including their meaning for us today.

Discover! Finding Faith in Life is a program like no other. This online director's manual offers many useful articles that will help you discover, explain, and clarify the riches of this program for teachers and parents. We are confident that by using this program, you will experience faith coming to life for children in a truly exciting way. May we all continue to discover more deeply the riches of our Catholic faith and so help others find the message of the Good News at the center of their lives.

With hopes and prayers for every blessing,

The Publishing Team at Saint Mary's Press

Program Highlights

The Bible Is the Primary Text

Discover! Finding Faith in Life immerses the children in Scripture by anchoring each chapter in a particular Scripture story. The children use The Catholic Children's Bible (grades 1–5) and the Bible story booklet (kindergarten) for each chapter. This focus on Scripture promotes biblical literacy and an in-depth familiarity with and knowledge of key Scripture stories throughout the Old and New Testaments.

Based on Principles of Engaged, Active Learning

The lessons are designed to foster a deep understanding of the concepts presented through an active-learning approach. Experiential and interactive processes create energy and excitement for both the teacher and the children, and activities and activity options throughout the program help the teacher build a meaningful lesson in a creative and engaging way.

Child-Centered Design

Information and activities are presented using the language and experiences of the child to create an ideal environment for real, engaged learning. The program relays core information through activities and discussions that will make sense to the learners in their everyday lives, thus conveying deep meaning and touching their hearts and minds in a significant way.

Rooted in a “Discover” Approach

The name of this program speaks to an energy and an excitement that are infused in the learning process. The content helps the children make connections with previous experiences and knowledge, and it invites them to deepen both as they discover new concepts and practices in the Catholic Tradition. Core concepts are structured in such a way that the children can discover meaning for themselves while being immersed in solid Catholic teaching and exposed to the prayers and practices that build Catholic identity.

Clear and Practical Structure

Each grade level is structured in the same manner: four units with five chapters in each unit. In addition to the twenty core chapters, there are eight liturgical season chapters, which can be incorporated into the flow of the school year according to each particular program's schedule and needs.

Each grade level has a generalized area of focus (Kindergarten: Getting to Know Jesus; Grade 1: God; Grade 2: Jesus; Grade 3: Church; Grade 4: Covenant; Grade 5: Sacraments), while also spiraling core concepts and foundational understandings to introduce and deepen meaning for the children at age-appropriate levels.

Of the five chapters in each unit, four of them focus on the four pillars of the Catechism. A fifth chapter introduces children to a foundational concept related to one of the seven Catholic social teaching principles.

The unit structure for all grades is as follows:

|-----------------------|---|
| First chapter | Believe (First Catechism pillar) |
| Second chapter | Celebrate (Second Catechism pillar) |
| Third chapter | Live (Third Catechism pillar) |
| Fourth chapter | Live: Catholic Social Teaching (Third Catechism pillar / Catholic social teaching) |
| Fifth chapter | Pray (Fourth Catechism pillar) |

Family Support

This program is designed to extend beyond the classroom and into the home. Each chapter across the program includes a family page that helps families follow along with the Scripture story and the core concepts presented in the current chapter.*

Spanish family pages are available in full color as part of the online resources for this program.*

Understanding the Components for Kindergarten

Teacher Guide

The Day 1—Get Ready! lesson begins with an optional Bible procession, a question or two that will spark interest and curiosity in the children, and some initial predictions about the Bible story.

Materials Needed lists all items that will be used in the lesson.

Unit 1: We Meet Jesus

Day 1—Get Ready!

Materials Needed

- a classroom Bible (optional)
- a large bookmark or ribbon (optional)
- a designated prayer table or Bible stand (optional)
- recorded music and appropriate equipment for playing it (optional)
- the chapter 1 child's page, removed from each Bible story booklet

Opening Prayer

- Take time to review how to make the Sign of the Cross.

- Ask them to put their finger on the angel in the picture, and then to put their finger on the shepherds.

Bible Story

- Read the Bible story to the children slowly, stopping briefly after each sentence. If the children are readers, invite them to follow along. If not, invite them to look at the main picture as you read.
- Collect the child's page for use on day 4.

This Chapter's Bible Story

Jesus Is Born

A long time ago, an emperor named Caesar Augustus wanted to count all the people in his kingdom, so Joseph and Mary had to travel to Bethlehem, which was Joseph's hometown.

Mary was about to give birth to Jesus, so Mary and Joseph looked for a place to stay in Bethlehem. No rooms were available, but an innkeeper offered them a stable, where animals are kept. And there, in the stable, Jesus

The Day 2—Dive In! lesson invites the children to engage with the Bible story and to learn core teaching points.

The Day 3—Discover! lesson reinforces key concepts through a learning activity.

36 Unit 1: We Meet Jesus

Engage

- Begin with a brief review of the Bible story or a few key points from the core teaching on day 2.
- Invite the children to retell the Bible story to the best of their recollection, and then continue with the following points:
 - In the Bible story, we heard about the visit of an angel to a young woman named Mary. Who sent the angel to visit Mary? (God)
 - What was the angel's message to Mary? (God has chosen you to be the mother of his Son.)

52 Unit 1: We Meet Jesus

Day 5—Discover More! (optional)

The following suggestions can be used alone or in combination to create an additional lesson for day 5. Choose the suggestions that best fit with your particular schedule or any specific objectives you might have.

Artistic Reflection

Encourage the children to share significant learnings or key points through art, skits, or other forms of creative expression.

Child's Page Activity

If the children did not complete the child's page at home, encourage them to send it home that day.

Additional Activities

Use either or both of the activities to reinforce the core learning.

Liturgical Reading

Read through the Gospel for the day. The Gospel can be found by using the Catholic Bishops' website (www.usccb.org) as a message. You do not need to read the Gospel; rather, encourage the children to listen. The children might be saying to themselves, "I am listening to the Gospel."

Conversation: Talking and Listening

- Introduce this activity as a game of talking and listening.
- Explain that you will call on several children and ask them a question.
- Encourage the group to listen carefully to the answers.
- Announce a simple question to the group, like, "What will you do after our session today?"
- Call on someone to answer the question. Remind the group to listen carefully to their answer.
- Try this format:
 - Johnny, what will you do after our session today? (My mom is taking me to the park.)
 - Johnny is going to the park after our session today!
 - Sally, what will you do after our session today? (I will go home and eat lunch.)
 - Did everyone listen to Johnny and Sally? What will Johnny do after our session today? (He will go to the park.) What will Sally do after our session today? (She will go home and eat lunch.)
- Continue in this way until several children have answered a question.
- Repeat as time permits, announcing another simple question. Here are a few sample questions:
 - What do you do after you get up in the morning?
 - What is your favorite thing to do on Saturdays?
 - What is your favorite food?
- Review each question and answer briefly to help the children remember the answers.
- Congratulate the children on being good talkers and good listeners!

Understanding the Scripture

In this Bible story, Mary was just a teenager when the angel Gabriel appeared to her. He told her that God chose her to be the mother of Jesus, his Son. He told her that Jesus would be a great king. His Kingdom would last forever.

This was a great responsibility for Mary to accept. She did not understand how it could even happen. But Mary knew that God was good and loving. Calling herself God's servant, Mary put herself in his hands and said, "Yes." Because Mary trusted God, Jesus came to Earth and saved us all. When we say yes to God like Mary did, we can also expect good things to happen. We celebrate Mary's yes to God on the Feast of the Annunciation, March 25.

Your Growing Child

In conversations, both talking and listening are important. It is important to talk with your child to share information and ideas with them. It is also important to listen to your child, to help them share their own thoughts and ideas.

Sometimes you may feel that your child is not listening. It is important for your child to know when they must take special care to listen. Use a statement like, "This is really important and you need to listen." Then have them repeat back what you just said. Thank your child for listening, and underline your request by repeating, "This is really important."

Family Activities

- Read together the Bible story from today's lesson, "Mary Says Yes to God." Ask your child to retell the story in their own words.
- The next time you are in church, take extra time to visit the Mary altar. You may want to pray a "Hail Mary" aloud and take a minute of quiet time together. You may also want to make a quick tour of the church to find other images of Mary in the windows or in other statues.
- Search online for images of "Mary, Mother of Jesus." Enjoy looking at the results with your child. Find one or two pictures that are appealing. If possible, print them and hang them in your child's room.

Prayer

Pray this prayer together as a family, beginning and ending with the Sign of the Cross:

Loving God, you chose Mary to be the mother of Jesus. Help us become who you want us to be as we say yes to you in faith and love. We ask this in your name. Amen.

Your Growing Child provides information and support for families regarding typical growth, abilities, and activities for kindergarten-aged children.

Mary Says Yes to God

A long time ago, in a town called Nazareth, lived a young woman named Mary. She was very good and very holy. She loved God very much. One day, God sent an angel to visit her. The angel had an important message for her. The angel said, "God has chosen you to be the mother of his Son. You will give birth to a baby and name him Jesus.

He will be called the Son of God. He will be the king of a kingdom that will never end!"

Mary said, "Yes! I am the servant of the Lord. May this happen to me, just as you have told me."

And the angel left.

Based on Luke 1:30-33, 38

The Angel Gabriel

The other side of the child's page is an activity related to the Bible story and chapter. This activity can be completed in class or at home.

On one side of the child's page is the Bible story focused on in the chapter. It includes beautiful imagery to create interest and a paraphrase of the Bible story that can be read to children.

Core Learning Activity

Imagine If . . .

- Create a space where the children can sit together on the floor for this activity.
- Invite the children to close their eyes. Ask them to imagine if God had not created light. Explain that there would be no sun to see during the day and no moon to see at night, and everything would be dark. Tell them to open their eyes now.

to create pretend binoculars. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the sky. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the earth. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the sun, moon, stars, and planets.

Ask them to imagine if God had not created the air. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the water. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the land. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the plants. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the animals. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the people. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the world. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the universe.

to make a bowl. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the plants. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the animals. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the people. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the world. Ask them to imagine if God had not created the universe.

something. Ask them to imagine if God had not created birds, fish, animals, or any of our favorite pets.

- Invite the children to look at one another without moving around. Ask them to imagine if God had not created people like us or our friends and family to love and care for each other.
- Encourage the children to run in place until you count to six. Ask them to imagine if God had not rested to enjoy his creation. Tell them that he created our bodies to move but also to rest and to set aside time to remember how special God's creation is and how much he loves us.

Process the Activity

- Remind the children that God created all things out of love for us. When we see all created things, we can be thankful that God has created them.
- Invite the children to repeat the following statements after you, to show thankfulness for creation:
 - Thank you, God, for creating light.
 - Thank you, God, for the sky and the sea.
 - Thank you, God, for land.
 - Thank you, God, for all the plants.
 - Thank you, God, for creating birds, fish, and all the animals.
 - Thank you, God, for creating people, especially me.
 - Thank you, God, for reminding us to rest.

Additional Activity Options

If the core activity would not work for your group for any reason, you may choose to use any of the additional activities on page 51 in its place.

Core Teaching

- Explain how God created everything out of love, using the following as suggested points:
 - Love is about providing for and caring for another person. We know that God's creation gives us many wonderful things, and we know that this is one way God shows his love and care for us.
 - When we create something, like a drawing or a card, we create out of love. We want to share something special from us with another person. Creation is God's gift of love to us.
 - The more we can see all that God has created around us as gifts, the more we can grow in our ability to know God's love.
- Tell the children that when we love all that God has created, we are showing our love to God since he created it all.
- Explain that because every part of God's creation shows us God's love, we must respect all of creation. Tell them that respect means "caring for," so we must care for animals, plants, and one another.
- Tell the children that it is important that we care for and don't hurt or damage what God has made. Remind them that we wouldn't like it if someone damaged the art or gift we made, so we want to show how important God's creation is to us by using great care with all that he created.
- Ask the children some questions to check for comprehension, such as the following:
 - Who created the water, land, animals, and people? (God)
 - When we care for God's creation, we are showing our love and respect for whom? (God)
- Invite the children to turn to the activity on page 3 of the activity booklet and complete it. If there is not enough time, have the children complete the activity at home and bring it back the next day to check. When they have finished, tell them that all the pictures show ways we can care for God's creation.

Closing Prayer

- Close the day by reading aloud the prayer on page 1 of the activity booklet. Invite the children to say "Amen," and then close with another Sign of the Cross.

Additional Activity Options is a reminder that each chapter offers three alternative possibilities for the core learning activity.

The Day 4–Go! lesson includes an invitation to recall key learnings, an optional chapter review, and a special activity to mark the completion of the chapter.

Day 4–Go!

Materials Needed

- the chapter 2 activity booklet
- a board or poster to write on
- copies of the handout “Chapter 2 Review,” one for each child

Note: The handout “Chapter 2 Review” can be found at the end of this chapter or accessed online at www.smp.org/discover_grade1/school.

Opening

- Begin prayer by leading the children in the Sign of the Cross. Then say, “Let us remember that we are in the holy presence of God.” Allow about 10 seconds of silence.
- Close with another Sign of the Cross.

Review

- Invite the children to think back over all the different things they did in this chapter, and invite volunteers to share some of the key things they learned.
- Ensure that the following points are made, write them on the board, and circle them:
 - Nothing can separate us from God’s love.
 - Jesus shows us God’s love.
 - We celebrate God’s love as a parish community.
- Give each child a copy of the handout “Chapter 2 Review” if you would like to incorporate an assessment on day 4. Help the children by reading the instructions. You may also find it helpful to complete the review together as

The Day 5–Discover More! lesson is offered for schools that have five rather than four days for religion class. Options for extending the chapter to a fifth day are included here. These ideas can also be used as extension activities on other days during the week.

Day 5–Discover More!

The following suggestions can be used alone or in some combination to create an additional lesson for day 5. Choose the suggestions that best fit in with your particular schedule or any specific objectives you might have.

Journal or Artistic Reflection

Invite the children to use a journal to write about the key learnings from the chapter. Encourage them to recall the things they found most interesting or helpful and what they might do differently because of what they learned. Alternatively, you might encourage the children to share their significant learnings through art, skits, or other forms of creative expression.

We Know and Live Our Faith

The following article and activity in the We Know and Live Our Faith resource corresponds to concepts introduced in this chapter:

- “God Made You and Loves You” + activity, pages 6–7

Read the selection aloud. Check for understanding by asking several questions. You may want to summarize the key concepts for the children. Invite the children to begin the activity, or have them complete it with their families at home.

Additional Activity Options

Use any of the additional activities on page 51 not used during any of the lessons to reinforce the core learning goals of the chapter.

Review and Chapter Wrap-Up

If you have a full class period for day 5, you could consider using day 4 to incorporate one of the additional activities on pages 51 or in the We Know and Live Our Faith resource to reinforce the core concepts of the chapter. Then day 5 can include the verbal recall of the key learnings of the chapter, the “Chapter 1 Review,” and the chapter wrap-up.

Liturgical Readings

Read through the Gospel (or all of the readings) for the upcoming Sunday liturgy—a list of readings can be found by using the calendar on the USCCB website (www.usccb.org)—and invite the children to share what they hear as the message. You do not need to provide lengthy background or explanation of the reading(s) or look for specific answers. Rather, encourage the children to open their ears and hearts to what the reading(s) might be saying to them and to use this as a time of preparation for Sunday liturgy.

The Additional Activities are alternative options for the core learning activity. They may also be used to extend or supplement the lessons as needed.

Additional Activities

Materials Needed

- pipe cleaners, three or four for each child

What Can We Make? (15 minutes)

- Distribute three or four pipe cleaners to each child. Tell the children they have 3 minutes to create something.
- Allow a few minutes for volunteers to share what they have created. Then collect the children's creations, and tell them you will give them back at the end of the class. Clear the space of all extra pipe cleaners.
- Tell the children that they are now going to make something else, but give them no supplies. Wait for a few minutes to see their reactions.
- Remind them that God made things from nothing, but that is because he is God. Explain to them that people cannot make art, cook, or build anything with nothing. Only God can create the world from nothing.
- Explain that we should be thankful that God loves us so much that he created us and the whole world around us.

Materials Needed

- multiple pieces of paper, each with a simple picture of an item from nature

Creation Charades (15 minutes)

- Prepare ahead of time multiple pieces of paper with simple pictures of items from nature, such as a dog, a bird, a tree, a plant, water, the sun.
- Explain to the children how to play the game of charades. Tell them that they have to act out something without using words, only using their bodies. Give the children an example by acting out one of the pictures and inviting them to guess what you are acting out.

The Chapter Review is offered for those who would like to include a review as part of the chapter. Core concepts covered in the lessons are highlighted here. You may wish to have the children complete this review individually, or you may choose to complete it as a class.

Background Reflection

God's love is perfect, never changing or swayed by anything we do. God created us from his love and desires us to remain in his love for all time. In the New Testament, we learn that God loved us so much that he sent his only Son to be with us and to teach us how to live. We celebrate God's love as the Church, a gathered community of faith.

This chapter offers a deeper understanding of what love is through seeing the everlasting love of our God. The true, eternal love of God is not something we can earn but is a gift freely given.

Take some time to reflect on how you celebrate God's love through the way you worship, pray, and serve. Share your own experience of the depth of God's love as you help your child understand God's love for him or her as God's beloved child.

People of Faith introduces the children to saints and other holy people who are models of faith.

Family Activities

- Discuss some of your favorite family religious celebrations. This discussion might include the reception of sacraments by family members, the parish community's liturgical seasons, or preparing for Sunday Mass. Share what makes these celebrations special to your family and explain that by taking the time to celebrate we grow in our love for God.
- Watch the video "VeggieTales — My Day" (YouTube, 2:42) together. Invite your child to share some things that he or she is thankful for that happened throughout the day. Discuss how God's love might be visible in some of these things.
- Read together the Featured Story on page 1780 in The Catholic Children's Bible (Romans 8:35, 37–39). Invite your child to tell you what he or she remembers about the meaning of this Scripture passage.

People of Faith

Saint Paul the Apostle (first century)

Paul was changed after meeting the Risen Jesus on a journey. He went from being against Christians to getting baptized and teaching and writing letters about Jesus to others. The feast of the Conversion of Saint Paul is January 25.

Prayer

Pray this prayer together as a family, beginning and ending with the Sign of the Cross.

God, you love us so much that you want to share all of creation with us. Thank you for making the world and everything we see! Amen.

We Know and Live Our Faith

We Know and Live Our Faith provides an additional opportunity for the children to learn about their faith. It can be used as part of class or at home with the family.

Living the Mission: Faith in Action

Mission 1: Each day this week, write in your mission booklet one thing you are grateful for. Say a silent prayer to God in thanksgiving.

Mission 2: Reflect on someone you might need to say you're sorry to. Write that person's name in your mission booklet, and make a plan to express your sorrow to this person in some way.

Mission 3: Think of one thing you can do to care for creation in a new way this week. Take that action and write a few notes in your mission booklet about what it was like.

Mission 4: Share some of your thoughts and feelings about what it means to you to be a follower of Jesus with one person this week. Write in your mission booklet how that conversation went.

Mission 5: Find a traditional prayer that you like (you can find some of these on pages 1990–1997 of The Catholic Children's Bible). Make a point to say this prayer each morning this week and note the date and time in your mission booklet.

Mission 6: Identify one change you can make in your behavior to minimize or end a conflict with someone. Write in your mission booklet about that change, and take that action.

Mission 7: Write in your mission booklet the names of five people who are important to you. Make a plan this week to tell each of these people how important they are to.

Mission 8: Set aside 5 minutes for silent prayer time each day this week. Ask God for those things you need in your life. Write these times in your mission booklet, and make some notes about what you asked God for.

Mission 9: Invite someone outside of your group of friends to join you in a game or activity. Write some notes in your mission booklet about how it felt to extend this kindness to someone.

Mission 10: Encourage your family to create a donation box or piggy bank. Invite your family members to contribute to this each week. Write in your mission booklet the name of an organization you will donate this money to at the end of the month.

Teacher Guide

The Chapter at a Glance feature offers the teacher an overview of the chapter goals and the core information needed to plan a lesson. A background reflection for teachers is offered, as well as Catechism references that are related to the concepts covered in the lesson. These references can be used by the teacher for deeper research and understanding.

Each chapter follows the same overall structure and timing. The chapters are designed to work in schools with either a four- or five-day weekly schedule for religion. Giving each lesson within a chapter a quick review will help you make any adjustments necessary to ensure success in your particular setting and with your particular group.

Day 1—Get Ready!

This day's lesson includes an engaging question(s) or activity that lays the foundation by assessing the children's prior knowledge and experience. This engages the children, providing them an early opportunity for success by prompting discussion or activity around concepts they are familiar with and then connecting those concepts with content they will be learning in the chapter. The children in grades 1–5 are also invited to locate the Scripture passage or featured Bible story that is the focus of the chapter and to place a bookmark in the Bible to save the location.

Day 2—Dive In!

For kindergarten, this day's lesson immerses the children in a Bible story, using the child's page from the Bible story booklet. It encourages the children to look at images related to the Bible story to predict what the story might be about. Then it involves reading the Bible story to the children. All Bible stories have been paraphrased using language that is friendly to kindergarten-aged children.

For grades 1–5, this day's lesson immerses the children in the Bible through a key Scripture passage. It focuses on helping the children understand the Scripture story and involves processing the content presented in the Understand It!, Live It!, and Tell It! features of The Catholic Children's Bible.

Day 3—Discover!

For kindergarten, this day's lesson begins with some core teaching points to relay to the children regarding the Bible story. Then the children are invited to participate in a learning activity, chosen by the teacher from several options. These activities provide creative ways to reinforce concepts with the children. If additional time is available, the children will begin the activity that appears on the child's page. They can always complete this at home if there is not enough time in the session.

For grades 1–5, this day's lesson involves a core learning activity (a craft in the liturgical season chapters) that brings to life one of the themes of the chapter in an interactive way. Frequently, this involves an out-of-the-seat activity that creates energy and excitement while helping the children further explore a concept related to the lesson. The core teaching part of the lesson is presented after the learning activity, giving the teacher essential information to share and questions to ask to assess comprehension.

Day 4—Go!

For kindergarten, this day's lesson wraps up the session with a final check and recall of the core lesson goals and preparation for taking materials home. The lesson then ends with a closing prayer.

For grades 1–5, this day's lesson wraps up the session with a final check and recall of the core chapter goals. If teachers would like to include an assessment as part of the chapter content, a chapter review is available to be completed at this time. This chapter review can be completed individually or together as a class. The lesson ends with a special activity (in the twenty core chapters) that rewards the children for completing the chapter and builds excitement for the chapters to come.

Day 5—Discover More!

If your school offers religion class five days a week, ideas are presented in this section for a fifth lesson. If your school has religion four days a week, the ideas offered on day 5 can be used as supplementary activities on any of the other days.

Music Suggestions

For kindergarten, music suggestions such as songs, chants, and dances are incorporated into the lessons.

For grades 1–5, each chapter includes two song suggestions that correspond to the chapter theme. Music can add another wonderful dimension to this program. For a complete list of songs for the program, please see the online resources for each grade. Of course, the teacher may also wish to add their own favorite hymns or songs, such as those popular in the school community.

Videos

For kindergarten, video suggestions are given throughout the program as appropriate, in both the lessons and on the family pages.

For grades 1–5, options for activities that incorporate fun and engaging videos are provided throughout the program. Settings that have access to the necessary technology can utilize this additional media to further enliven learning. Video suggestions are also included on the family pages in the children's activity booklets, so even if they are not used within the formal learning environment, they can be enjoyed at home with the family. Links to the video resources that are referenced throughout this program are available as part of the online resources for each grade.

Handouts

Some chapters include handouts, which can be accessed in two different ways:

- They can be found at the end of the chapter in the teacher guide for each grade.
- They can be accessed as part of the online resources for each grade.

Bible Story Booklets: Kindergarten

The Bible story booklets contain the child's pages for each of the twenty-eight chapters. One side of the page presents the Bible story for the lesson with inviting illustrations. The Bible story text is included on the page so that it can be read by teachers, caregivers, and children who can read. The other side of the page includes an activity related to the Bible story and the lesson. This activity can be completed together during the session or at home, depending on time availability. Each page is perforated for easy removal and use in class or at home.

Activity Booklets: Grades 1–5

A fun and colorful activity booklet accompanies each chapter in grades 1–5. The activities in these booklets may be used in class or may be completed at home with the family, depending on time parameters. Each activity booklet includes a prayer used in the chapter; two activity pages that reinforce the content of the chapter; and a family page that offers families background information on the chapter focus, suggested activities that can be done together, some information about a person of faith, and a family prayer. Note: In the liturgical season chapters, the activity on page 3 is replaced with a prayer service that can be used at the end of the chapter.

We Know and Live Our Faith: Grades 1–5

This resource, a supplemental piece that follows the pillars of the Catechism, is filled with articles that present additional doctrinal content that can expand the core concepts covered in the program. Directions in the teacher guide pinpoint which articles and activities from this resource relate to which chapters in the program. Some articles are referenced multiple times, as they relate to several chapters. Other content in this resource is not referred to directly in the chapters, as it introduces concepts that are not focused on in the core program. We Know and Live Our Faith can be used either directly in class as time allows or as a family-centered piece that deepens family understanding through reading and discussing faith content together.

Special Features: Grades 1–5

Each grade ends the chapter with an engaging activity to reinforce the chapter focus, to celebrate the completion of another chapter, and to track the progress the group has made through the year. From stickers to puzzles, each age-specific special feature will create excitement at the end of the chapter, and the children will look forward to discovering something new each week.

The Benefits of Digital eLearning

The Discover! eLearning platform is a valuable resource, providing an easy-to-use online lesson for each chapter in grades 1–5. Accessible from any device with an internet connection, each 20-minute lesson includes prayer, a friendly guide to assist children through the lesson, the featured Bible story, and engaging content and activities. These self-directed lessons are tailored to each grade level, with audio support for early readers.

Flexible to Expand Possibilities for Use

Schools can use this tool in multiple ways to enhance learning, choosing the scenario that best fits their setting:

- The most common application of this resource is as a supplemental tool for at-home learning. Children can complete the eLearning lessons at home, either before or after the lessons are covered in class, to prepare for what they will be learning or to reinforce what they have learned. The eLearning lessons can also be used at home as makeup material when students miss class.
- These lessons can be helpful if a school wants to provide another way for families to get involved with religious content together. When completed as a family, these online lessons create fun, faith-building, and sharing moments.

Ability to Track Progress

As the principal or religion coordinator, you will have access to a feature that allows you to monitor each child's progress within the eLearning program. You will also be able to see how children interact with the activities and answer questions. This access can be extended to teachers, enabling them to track the progress of the children in their care.

A reading from the first Letter of Saint Paul to the Corinthians

For the body itself is not made up of only one part, but of many parts. If the foot were to say, "Because I am not a hand, I don't belong to the body," that would not keep it from being a part of the body. And if the ear were to say, "Because I am not an eye, I don't belong to the body," that would not keep it from being a part of the body. If the whole body were just an eye, how could it hear? And if it were only an ear, how could it smell? As it is, however, God put every different part in the body just as he wanted it to be.

All of you are Christ's body, and each one is a part of it.

How to Involve Families in Faith Formation

Understanding that families have a unique role and responsibility in forming the faith lives of their children, Discover! includes multiple resources for schools looking to expand how families can become involved in their children's religious education.

Family Pages

Each chapter of the Discover! program, from kindergarten through grade 5, includes a corresponding family page in English and Spanish. These pages were created so that families can follow along and support the learning that is happening in the classroom. This helps families feel included in the religious education of their children and understand the core concepts that are being covered. These pages include background information about the chapter, written for adults, and activities that families can do together to reinforce learning.

The family pages are included in the teacher guide for kindergarten and in the activity booklets for grades 1–5. They are also part of the online resources for all grades and can be accessed here.

Digital eLearning Lessons

The digital eLearning lessons are a unique feature of the Discover! program and offer an invaluable resource to expand learning in the home. Families with children in grades 1–5 can complete these fun and engaging 20-minute lessons together and benefit from talking and learning about faith. This tool can provide a crucial link between families and religious education.

See “The Benefits of Digital eLearning” on page 34 and “About the Discover! eLearning Platform” on pages 35–37 to learn more about this resource.

We Know and Live Our Faith

Discover! includes a supplemental resource for grades 1–5 that is designed for easy use at home. This resource is essentially a mini-catechism that can help families learn about the basics of faith together. Engaging text and fun activities help reinforce key Catholic content. Families can use this as a reference resource, or they can be given a plan to complete different portions of reading throughout the year.

Support the Primary Educators of Faith

Discover! was created with whole families in mind, so you will find multiple resources for connecting families to the religious education of their children. By using one, several, or all of these resources in combination, you have tools to create a program that empowers and supports families as the center of deep and meaningful faith formation.

Handouts

Session Steps

Get Ready!

A. Welcome and Gathering Prayer (5 minutes)

1. Welcome the teachers and thank them for coming.
2. Invite the group to recall that they are in the holy presence of God, and allow for a few moments of silence.
3. Lead or choose another appropriate person to lead the following prayer:
 - Lord Jesus Christ, you have said, "Let the children come to me and do not stop them, because the Kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these" (Matthew 19:14). As we begin another year of religious education together, help us lead the children to you. May we always come to you for strength and guidance. Help us discover your love, and a glimpse of the Kingdom of Heaven, in the ministry we undertake. We ask this in your name, Lord Jesus. (All say, "Amen.")
4. Close with the Sign of the Cross.

B. Reflecting on Goals (15 minutes)

1. Distribute an index card and a pen to each teacher.
2. Ask the teachers to take a moment to consider the coming year. Invite them to reflect on three goals they would most like to have accomplished with the children in their class by the end of the year. Explain that these might be educational goals or spiritual goals.
3. Direct the teachers to write down their goals on their index card and then share them with the larger group.
4. Remind the group that if these goals are to be met, the teachers must address them each week in some way. Ask the teachers to turn their cards over and write a statement indicating how they will work toward these goals in small steps each week. For example: "I will pray a Hail Mary each week with the children so that they will know this prayer by heart by the end of the year." Or, "I will remind the children, at some point in the chapter, that Jesus wants us to love one another." Give the teachers a few moments to write down their plans to meet their goals.
5. Encourage the teachers to use one another as resources in meeting these goals, and, during the year, as sources of support and encouragement. Remind them that they are here for the children, but they are also here for one another as a community of teachers. Remind them that you, as the religion coordinator or principal, are here for them also. Encourage them to approach you with any challenges or concerns.

Dive In!

C. Bible Story (20 minutes)

1. Distribute the Discover! resources to the teachers according to grade level. Direct the kindergarten teachers to turn to chapter 12 in the Bible story booklet, titled “Jesus Teaches Us That God Forgives.” Explain that the title is different because they will be reading a paraphrased version of the featured Bible story that appears in The Catholic Children’s Bible.
2. Direct the grade 1–5 teachers to turn to the featured Bible story “The Forgiving Father,” on page 1620 in The Catholic Children’s Bible. Tell them that the text between the leaves on page 1620 is a shortened version of the Scripture verses on pages 1619 and 1622. Alert them to the citations under the picture on page 1620. Tell them that the first citation notes the abbreviated story on page 1620, and that the “full story” citation notes the Scripture verses on pages 1619 and 1622. Point out that the full story is also marked on these pages with a green leaf at the beginning and at the end.
3. Explain to all of the teachers that you will go through the story with them, modeling how they might use it in the classroom. Remind the kindergarten teachers that the language in the Bible story booklet is simplified and easier for young children to understand.
4. Encourage the teachers to take a moment to look at the artwork on the pages. Remind them that artwork often helps convey the meaning of a story. Invite a grade 1–5 teacher to read aloud the featured Bible story “The Forgiving Father,” on page 1620 in The Catholic Children’s Bible.
5. Ask all the teachers several questions to illustrate the kind of questions that might be asked of the children in the chapter:
 - In this picture, the older man is the father. He has his arms wide open. When someone has their arms wide open, what does that usually mean? (Hello! Welcome! I’m so glad to see you!)
 - How did the father feel when he saw the son on his way? (His heart was filled with pity. This means he had a feeling of sadness for his son.)
 - Why do you think the father felt this way? (Allow responses.)
 - The younger man has his hands almost folded. When someone has their hands folded, what does that usually mean? (Please forgive me! I’m sorry!)
6. Summarize the meaning of the story for the group. Explain that the father represents God’s merciful and persistent love, despite our many failures to return or even acknowledge that love. Share that being sorry and being forgiven should be part of every child’s experience. Emphasize that welcoming one another back into a loving relationship after conflict is one way we share God’s love!

Understand It!

1. Explain to the kindergarten teachers that you will now walk through some features of the Bible that the grade 1–5 teachers will use. Assure the kindergarten teachers that although the Bible story booklet doesn't have the same features, the teacher guide gives them everything they need to teach the Bible story in an age-appropriate way.
2. Summarize the first paragraph of the Understand It! on page 1621 in The Catholic Children's Bible. Note these points:
 - The son in this story asked his dad for a lot of money and then left home.
 - He wasted every penny.
 - When he was starving because he had no money left, he wanted to go home.
 - The father loved his son so much that he ran to meet him.
 - The father was so happy to have his son back that he threw him a celebration.

Live It!

Invite the teachers to reflect on the scenario and the questions posed in the Live It! on page 1621. Explain that this feature reinforces some of the key meanings of the featured Bible story and challenges the children to consider these for their own lives.

Tell It!

Point out the images in the Tell It! on page 1621. Explain that these images recall the featured Bible story and can help the children remember and retell it.

D. Forgiving Father Scavenger Hunt (20 minutes)

1. Ensure that the following items have been hidden around the room in advance: a ring, a robe, a pair of sandals, a tablecloth, and a variety of prepackaged treats.
2. Explain that the group will be participating in a scavenger hunt for items related to the featured Bible story "The Forgiving Father." Share with them what items they will be searching for.
3. Tell the group that when you say "Go!" everyone will begin looking around the room for the hidden items. Share that when they find an item, they should bring it to you at the front of the room.
4. Ask for a volunteer to retell the story of "The Forgiving Father" once all items have been found, using each item as a prop. Encourage the volunteer to retell the story with energy and detail. Model supportive and encouraging behavior for the group by actively listening, sharing words of support, and thanking the volunteer when they have finished.
5. Process the activity by explaining that just as the father loved and forgave the son, God loves and forgives us. Though we may act in ways that pull us away from God and our faith, God's love is unconditional. He loves us even if we sin, and he is willing to forgive us and welcome us with open arms if we repent.

6. Explain to the group that they have just been led through several of the key components in the Discover! program, with the focus on a Bible story and a core learning activity. Add that after learning about a Bible story related to the topic of a particular chapter, the children will learn more about that topic in greater detail.

Note: If you have enough prepackaged treats for the group, you may want to distribute them at the end of the activity to be enjoyed as part of the break.

E. Break (10 minutes)

F. Program Overview (30 minutes)

1. Explain that you will now take a few minutes to help the teachers understand the structure and format of the Discover! program in more detail.
2. Direct the teachers to open their teacher guides to the scope-and-sequence chart. Explain that they might like to look over this information in detail as they begin to plan each lesson. Tell them that this is a road map of the goals, concepts, Scripture stories, and other items that will be covered for their grade level.
3. Ask them to turn to the table of contents next. Explain that the program's core chapters are presented in four units of five chapters each. Note that each chapter follows a pillar of the Catechism in that unit. The first chapter is Believe (doctrine), the second is Celebrate (liturgy and sacraments), the third is Live (morality), the fourth is Live: Catholic Social Teaching (social teaching principles), and the fifth is Pray (prayer).
4. Note that an additional eight liturgical season chapters are offered following the core chapters. Explain that these are listed in order of presentation for the year and can be used as time or your school's particular program allows. Ask the teachers to note the chapter on Mary for their own grade. Explain that in kindergarten and grades 1 and 2, the Mary lesson can be used for any feast day of Our Lady or during the month of May. Note that in grades 3–5, the Mary chapter is focused on a specific feast.
5. Ask the teachers to turn to chapter 3 in their teacher guides. Encourage them to page through the chapter for a few moments to get familiar with the presentation and the layout of the pages.
6. Direct them to find the first page of the chapter, the Chapter at a Glance page. Point out the Scripture focus connected to this lesson. Ask the grade 1–5 teachers to open their Bibles to this Scripture passage and its featured Bible story. Invite the kindergarten teachers to turn to the chapter 3 Bible story in the Bible story booklet. Explain that even though they may be looking at different lessons, you will be walking through the lesson's main features together.

7. Note that grade 5 is special because it uses no featured Bible stories. Explain the following:
 - In grade 5, all the Bible stories are located in the standard Bible text and do not use the condensed featured Bible stories. This is because the children are at a more advanced reading and comprehension level and can navigate the Bible more easily.
 - The features that would ordinarily be part of the featured Bible story pages (Understand It! and Live It!) are given on the first page of the grade 5 activity booklets. The Tell It! directions are given in the teacher guide.
 - This is occasionally the case for some of the chapters in grades 1–4 as well. If there is no featured Bible story, page 1 of the activity booklet presents the Understand It! and Live It! paragraphs.
8. Continue explaining the Chapter at a Glance page by sharing the following:
 - The chapter goals are given in three clear statements and are repeated at the end of the chapter as a summary for the children.
 - The Catechism pillar reminds you which pillar the chapter is focused on.
 - The Catechism references are paragraph numbers in the Catechism of the Catholic Church that go deeper into some of the concepts introduced to the children. These references are for your background and are not meant to be used directly with the children.
 - For grades 1–5, you will notice the key words. The words in italic are introduced in the featured Bible story in The Catholic Children's Bible. The words in regular type are introduced in the teacher guide chapter. For kindergarten, there are no separate key words; new words are explained at the time they are used in the chapter.
 - For grades 1–5, the music suggestions are optional songs that can be incorporated into the lesson and relate to the concepts being presented. Music suggestions for kindergarten are integrated into the lesson or into the suggested activities.
 - The materials needed list identifies items needed for the chapter lesson, activities, and crafts.
 - The background reflection is offered as a personal reflection to help you make connections with the chapter content and your own faith. It also provides some additional background for you as you prepare to teach each chapter.
9. Ask the teachers to turn to the next page where they will see “Day 1—Get Ready!” Explain that this is the lesson for the first day of the week. Note that there are three more days: Day 2—Dive In!, Day 3—Discover!, and Day 4—Go! Point out that there is an option to extend the chapter to a fifth day (Day 5—Discover More!). Direct the teachers according to what schedule works best for your school.

10. Explain that you will go through each day in turn. Make the following brief comments:
- For kindergarten, Day 1—Get Ready! includes an opening prayer, an optional Bible procession if there is time, an engaging question(s), a preview of the Bible story, and a closing prayer.
 - For grades 1–5, Day 1—Get Ready! includes an opening prayer, an engaging activity, a Bible background, and a closing prayer. The activity helps to create interest in the chapter topic, and the Bible background helps the children learn about the Scripture passage they will be reading and locate it in their Bibles.
 - For kindergarten, Day 2—Dive In! includes an opening prayer, and engaging activity where they consider the images related to the Bible story, the Bible story itself, some core teaching points, and a closing prayer.
 - For grades 1–5, Day 2—Dive In! includes an opening prayer, a Scripture focus that involves reading and understanding the Scripture passage for the chapter, and a closing prayer.
 - For kindergarten, Day 3—Discover! includes an opening prayer, an opportunity to review some key points of the Bible story and core teaching, a learning activity, and a closing prayer.
 - For grades 1–5, Day 3—Discover! includes an opening prayer, a core learning activity, a core teaching, and a closing prayer. The core learning activity is central to the lesson, as the children will be encouraged to use their bodies and minds to grasp the meaning of the central concept in the lessons. The core teaching introduces additional content to the children.
Note the “Additional Activity Options” box. If necessary, one of these activities can be substituted for the core learning activity. Encourage the teachers to look over all the activities to find the best one for their group.
 - For kindergarten, Day 4—Go! includes an opening prayer, a review of the learning activity from the previous day, a rereading of the Bible story, an activity on the child’s page, the chapter wrap-up, and a closing prayer.
 - For grades 1–5, Day 4—Go! includes an opening prayer, a review, a chapter wrap-up, and a closing prayer. The chapter wrap-up engages the children in articulating what they have learned, and it summarizes the chapter by presenting the three goals, in abbreviated form, that shaped the chapter from the beginning. The closing prayer directs the children’s hearts and minds to God in a simple but meaningful way.
11. Explain that Day 5—Discover More! includes additional suggestions. If your school has a fifth day of religion, share that these ideas can create a lesson for this day. If your school has four days of religion, share that these ideas can act as additional resources to be used as time allows.
12. Consider pointing out the We Know and Live Our Faith resource if this is an option your school will be incorporating. Explain to the teachers that this can be used on the fifth day, incorporated into the four-day week, or sent home for family use.

13. Direct the attention of the kindergarten teachers back to the Bible story booklet for chapter 3. Ask the grade 1–5 teachers to look through their folders to find the activity booklet for chapter 3. Comment as follows:
 - For kindergarten, one side of the Bible story booklet contains the paraphrased Bible story, and the other side presents an activity that helps reinforce a particular aspect of the Bible story and lesson.
 - For grades 1–5, page 1 of the activity booklet contains the opening prayer. For chapters that use Scripture apart from a featured Bible story, the Understand It! and Live It! can also be found there.
 - Page 2 of the activity booklet for grades 1–5 relates to the Scripture used in the lesson. It is often planned as an open-Bible activity for the children to further familiarize themselves with the Bible story and feel a sense of competence and accomplishment through the activity.
 - Page 3 of the activity booklet for grades 1–5 is a review of some of the concepts presented in the core teaching. This page helps the children recall and reinforce the main concepts of the teaching.
 - The last page of the activity booklet for grades 1–5 is the family page. It includes a background reflection for adults, family activities that can be done at home, a People of Faith paragraph that features a saint or holy person, and a prayer that the whole family can pray together.
 - The family page for kindergarten is a separate reproducible handout found in the teacher guide and as part of the online resources. It includes a background reflection, a paragraph focused on child development, family activities, and a prayer that the whole family can pray together.
14. Summarize your remarks by asking the teachers to find the article “Understanding the Components” at the front of the teacher guide. Explain that these pages provide brief explanations of the different parts of the teacher guide and the additional components for their grade.
15. Refer briefly to the manila envelopes the teachers picked up as they came in. Explain that these envelopes contain informative handouts that can be used by the teachers or distributed to parents. Remind the teachers that there are other important and helpful articles at the front of each teacher guide. Explain that these articles will not be discussed today but that the teachers should read them for their own information.
16. Point out the article on the characteristics of children, and invite the teachers to read it carefully. Note that the characteristics of the children at their own grade level are given in the front of the corresponding teacher guide. Remind the teachers that growth is on a spectrum, and for that reason it is helpful to know what can be expected at ages both younger and older than the grade they are currently teaching.

17. Invite the teachers to take some time to look over their teacher guide and to raise any questions they might have. (After a few minutes, ask the group if anyone has questions. If someone has a question requiring a lengthy response, give a short response and then ask that teacher to see you after the session for a more detailed explanation.)

Go!

G. Closing Prayer (5 minutes)

1. Direct the teachers to take a few minutes to quiet themselves and to recall that they are in the holy presence of God.
2. Ask the designated reader to read the prepared passage from Matthew (19:13–15).
3. Offer the following prayer:
 - Thank you, Lord Jesus, for sharing your life and your love with children. Help us to share that love with the children as they learn more about you and about our faith this year. And be with us through our planning, our activities, our teaching, and our joyful participation in the faith life of the children you call to yourself. We ask this in your name, Lord Jesus. Amen.
 - Let us now pray together in the words that Jesus taught us: Our Father . . .
 - Let us go in peace to share the Good News with the children, our school, and our world. (Encourage the teachers to respond, “Amen!”)

Characteristics of Kindergarten and Elementary Children

Although all children are distinct individuals and have different rates of development, children of the same age do have some common developmental elements. Thus, in this section, some characteristics of each age-group are presented. A better understanding of the various ages will help you to be more effective in spreading the Good News.

One characteristic common to children in the elementary grades is high energy! Children of these ages are active and curious learners who will ask and say the most surprising things. And, though they share the common characteristics outlined in this article, it is important to never forget that each one of them is unique, with individual characteristics and gifts.

Kindergartners

Kindergartners are energetic, curious, and eager to learn about the world around them. With typical ages ranging from 5 to 6 years old, kindergartners exhibit a wide range of developmental levels. Children who have attended a preschool program may be more accustomed to group interactions and routines than children without that experience. However, every kindergartner will look to their teachers for guidance and approval, often needing positive reinforcement, especially when asked to work independently. All kindergartners thrive with hands-on experiences, nurturing guidance, and opportunities to explore their interests and creativity.

Physical Characteristics

Kindergartners grow at different rates and can exhibit a wide range of heights, weights, and body proportions. They are constantly in motion and have difficulty remaining sedentary for long periods. Their gross motor skills are quite developed, but fine motor skills like cutting, writing, and coloring are still emerging. Kindergartners may appear physically clumsy, bumping into objects or people as they move about. They require frequent breaks and opportunities to expend energy through movement and physical play. Kindergartners are also highly sensory, using all five senses to explore their environment.

Intellectual Characteristics

Kindergartners are in a period of rapid cognitive development, which they demonstrate through curiosity, creativity, and imagination. They frequently ask “why” about everything they encounter. They are concrete thinkers who learn best through direct sensory experiences and hands-on manipulation. While their attention spans are gradually increasing, kindergartners still need varied, interactive learning approaches to remain engaged. They enjoy repetition and familiarity, but they also thrive when offered new, imaginative experiences. A balance of experiences will provide kindergartners with the security of knowing something that has become familiar, as well as the excitement of learning something new. An advance alert often helps them prepare to put things away and get ready for the next activity. Kindergartners’ language skills are developing, so short and clear directions and explanations are best.

Social-Emotional Characteristics

Kindergartners have a strong desire to please their teachers and follow rules and routines. However, they are still learning to manage big emotions, which can sometimes lead to impulsive outbursts. While learning to cooperate with peers, kindergartners may struggle with sharing, taking turns, and resolving conflicts. They benefit from clear expectations, positive reinforcement, and nurturing classroom environments.

First Graders

First graders are enthusiastic, social, and eager to learn. Many are already reading and writing at a basic level, having developed these skills in kindergarten. Yet, 6–7-year-olds still need a lot of movement and activity. Though they are quite inquisitive, their attention spans are rather short. Making sessions varied and dynamic will ensure that your first graders are engaged and content.

Physical Characteristics

Much is happening in first grade in terms of physical characteristics. Many children are losing teeth and growing new ones. Their fine motor skills are fairly well developed, which means that they can use scissors as well as draw and write. However, cutting around curves and writing with precision can still take quite a bit of effort. And, for some children, these are still challenging tasks. First graders' desire to move and play points to the importance of varying learning activities for this age-group. To address this, it is best to keep them moving, by doing such things as starting the class in a prayer circle in one corner of the room, singing a song with several simple motions, moving to a table activity, sitting on the floor to listen to a dramatic Bible story, playing a game in the middle of the room, or better yet, going outside or to the gym to play. This variety will satisfy their need to move while keeping them engaged and focused.

Intellectual Characteristics

Thinking and learning are literal and concrete at this age. First graders will most likely think of God as a human person with human characteristics rather than use abstract or symbolic images. Nonetheless, first graders are thinkers. They ask a lot of questions, and they have creative imaginations. They will think about questions you ask, as long as the questions are not too complicated. Their attention spans are long enough that they like to listen to a good Bible story.

Social-Emotional Characteristics

Most first graders like playing with others, but they often prefer small groups. They are willing to cooperate, but they often want to “win” or have things go their way. Young children need continual affirmation, thriving on praise. Many first graders want to be the center of attention, so they like telling stories about themselves.

Second Graders

Second graders are lively, yet more grown-up and serious compared to the less confident first graders they were just a year ago. Now that they have a few years of elementary school experience, 7–8-year-olds are more settled and comfortable in their learning environment. They typically appreciate the order and structure of a classroom or catechetical setting. Thus, being organized and well prepared will help second graders to feel relaxed, content, and ready to learn.

Physical Characteristics

Most second graders have good hand-eye coordination and therefore are fairly adept at writing, painting, drawing, cutting, and pasting. Because they are still growing rapidly, they may be somewhat awkward at some of these tasks. However, in general they have good large- and small-muscle motor skills.

Intellectual Characteristics

Second graders are concrete thinkers, but they do have some analytical skills and can organize their thoughts. For example, they can make comparisons and think reflectively. Yet, most of their thinking is concrete and focuses on the physical things that they can see or imagine. They might have trouble imagining something with which they are unfamiliar. For example, they may have trouble imagining a desert if they have never seen one. So, if knowing what a desert is like is an important part of a lesson, they may need to see a picture or a video clip of a desert.

Furthermore, second graders do have the ability to distinguish between right and wrong, although they will not always understand the consequences of their actions. They do, however, like to please adults.

Social-Emotional Characteristics

The second-grade child is developing a sense of self. Interaction with classmates helps the child, but there are times when a second grader may want to be alone. And friendships can change quickly in second grade. At the same time, the 7–8-year-old child likes to play and work with friends. For this reason, second graders do best working with a partner or in a small group. Given that there is a heightened interest in friendships at this age, it is a good time to talk about Jesus as friend.

Third Graders

Third graders are spirited, lively, and eager to take on more challenging, complicated tasks. However, 8–9-year-olds do not necessarily have all the follow-through skills needed to complete their tasks. Although they will take some initiative and work enthusiastically, you will have to help them stay organized.

Physical Characteristics

Coordination and balance are much improved for third-grade children. Their muscle groups and their fine motor skills have developed to the point that they can do more intricate tasks beyond writing and drawing. They have the ability to use small instruments and thus can do things like simple sewing or threading small beads onto a string.

Intellectual Characteristics

Verbal skills are in high gear by third grade. Most third graders have mastered a grade-level ability for reading, writing, and listening. They also like to talk and discuss their ideas. They are inquisitive, and now they want to know not just the facts but also the reasons behind the facts. For example, third graders may want to know why Jesus was born in a stable in Bethlehem, or why he asked James and John to leave their father to be his disciples. And, they are ready and willing to discuss the importance of these facts.

This deeper level of thinking helps third graders to evaluate and make judgments. They are beginning to see the connections between concepts and to think abstractly. They not only know the difference between right and wrong but can also usually understand the consequences of choices they make.

Social-Emotional Characteristics

In third grade, the peer group is very important, and peer pressure can become an issue. Also, it is fairly common for third graders to have a “best friend,” though sometimes to the exclusion of other children. You can build on the notion of Jesus as friend and use examples of Jesus and how he treated his friends. Point out that Jesus welcomed many friends, like Peter and the Apostles, Martha, Mary, Zacchaeus, and others.

Most third graders enjoy the social dimension of working in groups and having group discussions. They can also work effectively in small groups to complete a simple task.

Fourth Graders

Fourth graders are now some of the older children in their elementary school. Thus, they often feel pretty mature, important, and more autonomous. They are willing to work independently and have less need for adult direction. They are ready to take on more responsibility and make decisions. Indeed, as 9–10-year-olds, they are at a good age to discuss the responsibilities of discipleship. Fourth graders may also develop particular interests in a hobby, sport, or activity, and they may take it very seriously.

Physical Characteristics

Girls are more physically mature than boys at this point. Some girls have begun prepuberty and even puberty. Girls and boys alike may be more temperamental and brooding. But, at the same time, they are still high energy and still like to play outside and with friends. They may also enjoy team sports.

Intellectual Characteristics

Fourth graders are able to do some abstract thinking and reasoning, but they still do best with concrete, hands-on learning. They like using books and references, and they have an interest in facts and figures. They also have a developing conscience and definitely have a sense of what is fair, right, and just. These interests make it a good time to have them delve more deeply into the Scripture stories that have moral lessons, as most of them do. For instance, a fourth grader will be intrigued by the fact that Jesus tells Peter he should forgive not seven times but seventy times seven times. Why would Jesus ask us to keep forgiving someone who keeps sinning?

Also, fourth graders have the capacity to complete a more complicated and prolonged project. So, for example, with guidance from you, a small group can take a Scripture story and act it out as a skit.

Social-Emotional Characteristics

This is an age for high emotions and dramatic intensity, especially among girls. Fourth graders are often critical of themselves and others, sometimes expressing this inappropriately by talking about friends and classmates. Many fourth graders are interested in the opposite sex. Even when this is the case, however, most still want to stay within their same-sex groups for socializing. In addition, they like working in small groups and can even come to a group decision. Again, emphasizing that Jesus wants us not only to welcome one another as friends but also to love and help one another can lead fourth graders to develop empathy and respect for those they may not naturally like.

Fifth Graders

Fifth graders may be considered “tweens,” because as 10–11-year-olds they are between early childhood and adolescence. Many of them, girls especially, will begin puberty, which often starts between the ages of 10 and 12 for girls and a bit later for boys. These biological changes are often accompanied by changes in emotions and intellect as fifth graders become more socially, intellectually, and physically mature. At the same time, they are still children who like to be silly and have fun.

Physical Characteristics

Many fifth-grade girls will show the physical signs of puberty as they begin to enter the developmental stage known as adolescence. Breast development and menstruation often occur for girls. Many boys, however, do not begin puberty until the ages of 12 to 14. Both boys and girls are often growing taller, feeling more stress, and sometimes experiencing changes in their sleep habits. Don't be surprised if they arrive late or sleepy if you have a Sunday morning session.

Intellectual Characteristics

Children in fifth grade are capable of critical thinking and problem solving. They are able to think somewhat abstractly. For example, ritual symbols are meaningful. They can understand that the cleansing effects of baptismal waters mean more than physical cleaning.

Social-Emotional Characteristics

Most fifth graders enjoy group work. They are mature enough to compromise, cooperate, and collaborate when it comes to completing an assignment or solving a problem. Some fifth graders will have feelings for someone special and flirt with, text, or message those they are interested in. Social media can be a major source of influence and social anxiety at this age. Cell phones and mobile devices may become an issue in the classroom but can also be used as teaching tools.

Overview of Catholic Social Teaching

In the Sacrament of Baptism, we are urged to keep the light of Christ alive in our hearts for the rest of our lives. We are called to holiness. Though this may seem like a tall order, when we live lives that focus on loving God, ourselves, others, and creation itself, we move in the direction of lifelong holiness.

The Catholic Church has a rich history of social teaching that helps us live positive, meaningful, and holy lives through an understanding of our relationship and responsibility to others. This teaching has guided the lives of Christians since the beginning of the Church. Modern Catholic social teaching has been addressed and explained in Church documents since the 1800s. Catholic social teaching promotes our Catholic identity and helps ensure that we treat those around us and our environment with dignity and respect. It gives us the guidance to live our faith and navigate our modern world.

Some of the key themes of Catholic social teaching have been highlighted as general themes or principles. These principles challenge us globally—to view the world as one family and to work for justice and peace. They also challenge us locally. We are called to apply these principles daily in our encounters with people, in forming our opinions regarding current events, and in our willingness to give our time and money to those in need.

The following are seven of the key principles of Catholic social teaching:

1. Life and Dignity of the Human Person

This first principle is the foundation for the others. We cannot practice the other principles without fully embracing this one. This principle seems simple and uncomplicated, but it is extremely complex. It states that every life is sacred, and every person has dignity. The challenge to this principle is to comprehend that there are not degrees of sacredness and degrees of dignity. No one life is more valuable than another; every life is significant. An incarcerated person has just as much dignity as a priest or a bishop. An elderly person's life is just as sacred as an infant's. Every person is a child of God, and every person is precious.

2. Call to Family, Community, and Participation

Catholics are communal, and this principle reminds us that we cannot live in isolation. The first and most important community is family; we are called to strengthen and protect families. By participating in our communities, we can work on social issues and ensure that laws and policies benefit the common good.

3. Rights and Responsibilities

We must work to have all human rights protected. Every person has rights, such as the right to life, food, shelter, and work. Everyone has economic, political, and cultural rights. Along with these rights comes the responsibility to help others in our society and to protect and safeguard the rights of others.

4. Option for the Poor and Vulnerable

Jesus focused on those in most need—the disabled, the diseased, and the outcast. His concern for their welfare was a sign of the coming of the Kingdom of God among us. This principle encourages us to look for those who might need our help. The Catholic Church teaches that by celebrating the Eucharist, the sacrament of unity, we commit ourselves to concern for those who are poor and in need.

5. The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers

All occupations are valuable and should be respected. Workers have a right to fair wages and to safe working conditions. Workers have a right to join unions. This principle especially speaks to our responsibility as consumers. Who makes the products we purchase? Where are they produced? What are the working conditions of those who produce them? Expanding our knowledge as responsible consumers means that we can use our consumer power to better the lives of workers around the globe.

6. Solidarity

As one family, we have a commitment to one another. Regardless of culture, race, or social status, we are called to be nonjudgmental in our support for one another. This principle reminds us that we are not to participate in groups that set one side against another. We should work to eliminate the “we-they” mentality in our speech and other social communication. Under this principle, we commit ourselves to seeking common solutions to common problems in an atmosphere of respectful dialogue. Working for peace in a world that is often filled with violence and conflict is at the core of this principle.

7. Care of God’s Creation

The Catholic Church calls care for the Earth and all of God’s creation essential to our faith. The responsibility of taking care of the Earth’s resources must be taken seriously and approached thoughtfully. Each day we are faced with choices, large and small, that help sustain our environment or contribute to the abuse of the tremendous gift of God’s creation.

One person can dramatically affect the lives of others. Catholic social teaching reminds us that we are called to embrace everyone: the poor, the immigrant, the incarcerated, the unborn, the nosy neighbor, the coworker that irritates us, and those whose opinions differ from our own. We are called to treat everyone lovingly, as God loves us. We are also called to use the resources in our environment with careful consideration.

The goal of Catholic social teaching has been articulated in the Church since the beginning: “Love one another” (John 15:17). The principles of Catholic social teaching articulate this love in a precise and measurable way. Together they serve as an “examination of conscience” for the Church today, and they can serve as a beacon of hope for all of human society. In our world today, the principles of Catholic social teaching outline our path toward building a just society and a life of holiness.

Discover! Finding Faith in Life brings the core concepts of Catholic social teaching to life for children. One chapter in every unit of the program focuses on a Catholic social teaching principle and the basic concepts around this principle. This introduces children to a crucial component of Catholic teaching and can enrich their faith and understanding of their role in working for a better world.

Faith and Fun in the Family

1. Stick to the basics. Never underestimate the power of repetition in forming faith. Pray the Prayer before Meals ("Bless us, O Lord . . .") before every meal, wherever you are (even in the car). And pray the Our Father and the Hail Mary as part of night prayers.
2. Honor meals as family time. Talk about things important to each family member. Share stories, memories, values, and upcoming plans or events. Make sure there are no electronics around that could cause distractions.
3. Talk about Jesus. Children should hear about Jesus at home as well as in church or during religious education sessions. Include conversations about what Jesus would do in different circumstances, ask Jesus to be with various people you encounter together, and remind one another how Jesus might feel when you do something good for others.
4. Pray aloud. Children should hear their parents praying. Share happenings of everyday life by requesting prayers from one another. For example, "Mom has a big presentation at work today. Let's pray now that the Holy Spirit will be with her." Or "Josh's spelling test is today. He really studied hard, so let's pray that he will remember what he knows." Also remember family members and others who are ill or in special need of prayer.
5. Pray for safety and fair play in sports. Emphasize that we pray for safety and fair play in our games, and that God does not favor one team over another. He loves the members of every team equally.
6. Create a prayer space in your home. A prayer space might be a small table placed in a corner of a room. Include a Bible, a candle (real or electric), a rosary, some favorite holy cards, and some Catholic children's books. Gather here at various times for family or individual prayer.
7. Keep a rosary in the car. Keep a rosary in the car, and pray it on short and long trips. Brush up on the list of the mysteries or keep a guide with you in the car, and announce one for each decade. When your child is ready, invite them to lead.

8. Plan vacations with Mass in mind. Each parish in the world is unique. Research nearby parish churches and plan to participate in the Eucharist on the Sundays you are vacationing. After Mass, introduce yourselves to the celebrating priest. Ask him for tips on local restaurants or other places to see in the area.
9. Get out in the real world. Enjoy God's gift of creation with your family. Visit a local park or nature preserve, and wonder aloud at the beauty of God's handiwork. At every site, pray a litany: "Thank you, God, for . . ." with each family member naming something they see in nature. Take turns naming as many gifts of creation as you like!
10. Bless your child. A parent's blessing is a powerful sign of God's love. With your hand on your child's head, make the sign of the cross with your thumb on your child's forehead, while saying, "God bless you in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit." Any other appropriate words can be added. Blessings can be done before any occasion, special or routine, such as leaving for school, preparing for a test or sports competition, or going to bed.
11. Talk about your values. Use TV, social media, video games, or other influences as "teachable moments" to express your Christian values. Be sure to accentuate the positive if you see it illustrated in a particular character or situation.
12. Prepare for Mass together. Mass should be anticipated with preparation. Saturday night might be a good time to read the Sunday Gospel at the evening meal. Discuss as a family what Jesus might be telling or showing your family in the Gospel. After Mass, incorporate the homily into your conversation on the way home.
13. Celebrate feast days. Keep track of annual feasts by using your parish calendar and bulletin reminders. Though the seasons of Advent, Christmas, Lent, and Easter are key, various feasts during the year merit attention and offer an opportunity to celebrate faith and make the day special. You may want to add family name days to your feast-day calendar, as well as baptismal anniversaries. There are many sources, in books and online, for celebrating feast days on the Catholic calendar. Feast days give us a respite from everyday routine and root us more firmly in the life of Christ as mirrored in each individual feast or saint.

Biblical Literacy and the Teaching of Scripture

As a religious educator, you know the power that Scripture has to touch children's hearts and inspire their moral and spiritual lives. To remind us to draw on this power when teaching religion, the Church's teaching documents always call us to make the Bible an integral part of our ministry:

Catechesis should take Sacred Scripture as its inspiration, its fundamental curriculum, and its end because it strengthens faith, nourishes the soul, and nurtures the spiritual life. (National Directory for Catechesis, p. 70)

Likewise, the holy synod forcefully and specifically exhorts all the Christian faithful, especially those who live the religious life, to learn "the surpassing knowledge of Jesus Christ" (Phil 3:8) by frequent reading of the divine scriptures. (Dogmatic Constitution on Divine Revelation [Dei Verbum], 1965, 25)

Through their ministry with children, teachers equip children with the essential knowledge and skills required for their lifelong journey of faith. When it comes to the Bible, teachers want to begin teaching the knowledge and skills that will help children to ultimately become biblically literate adults. So let's start by describing biblically literate adults.

Biblically literate adults are comfortable reading and using the Bible. They know how the books of the Bible are arranged and how to quickly and easily locate a specific book or passage. They have a solid understanding of the biblical story of salvation history, and they are familiar with key people and events and how God's saving power worked through those people and events. Biblically literate adults understand that any book or passage from Scripture must be understood in its proper context. When reading the Bible, they consider things like the literary genre, the culture of the time, the original author's intended message, how the message fits into the bigger picture of salvation history, and how the passage is understood in the Church's Tradition.

We can help children to become biblically literate adults by working on three specific goals:

- A. Help them to become knowledgeable and comfortable using the Bible.
- B. Help them to know and understand the biblical story of salvation history.
- C. Help them to understand how to interpret Bible books and passages in their proper contexts.

Goal A is the Access goal. Goal B is the Big-Picture goal. Goal C is the Context goal. Taken together, these can be called the ABCs of biblical literacy.

The three goals of biblical literacy follow a certain progression. The Access goal is the most basic; its competencies create a foundation for working on the Big-Picture and Context goals. The Big-Picture competencies build on the Access competencies, creating greater knowledge that the Context competencies can then build on. All three goals are closely related; working on any one goal usually reinforces the others.

As a general guideline, with elementary-age children, the primary focus should be developing the Access competencies and introducing some Big-Picture knowledge. The Context competencies will probably not be focused on, because they require more abstract reasoning than most young children are capable of. However, specific Context skills and knowledge competencies will be used as children learn about the meaning of specific Bible stories.

Let's take a closer look at these three goals and how teachers can help children to develop the competencies needed to become proficient in them. (For a more detailed look at these three goals, read Biblical Literacy Made Easy: A Practical Guide for Catechists, Teachers, and Youth Ministers, Saint Mary's Press, 2008.)

Access Goal: Helping Children Become Knowledgeable and Comfortable Using the Bible

Many children do not know how to use the Bible. They may have heard Bible stories, and maybe they were even given a Bible for their First Communion. But they do not know how the Bible is structured or how to find specific passages or stories within it. By focusing on the competencies of the Access goal, we can help the children we teach to become more familiar and comfortable with the Bible.

The most critical practice for achieving the Access goal—a practice so basic that many people overlook it—is simply having the children use the Bible. Too often children read Scripture passages as quotations in textbooks. There may be only one Bible in the classroom, so the teacher looks up the passage and then hands the opened Bible to a young person to read. These practices do not encourage children to learn basic biblical literacy skills. If young Catholics are to become comfortable in accessing the Bible, they must use it regularly. Every classroom or meeting space must have enough Bibles for each child to use. What we model as important has a much greater impact than what we say is important!

To help children become comfortable in using the Bible, we can teach them two important competencies: (1) knowing the Bible's structure and (2) locating a passage in the Bible.

Knowing the Bible's Structure

The Bible is not one book; rather, it is a collection, or even a small library, of books and letters. These books are organized in a specific and intentional structure, sort of like books might be grouped in sections on a bookshelf. At the beginning of The Catholic Children's Bible, these sections are briefly explained and visually presented in the section called "The Bible Is Like a Bookshelf." Here is a slightly more detailed explanation of those sections:

- The Old Testament is the first major section of the Bible. Its books are primarily about God's relationship with his Chosen People, the Israelites (or the Jews).
 - The first part of the Old Testament is called the Pentateuch. The stories in these books are the heart of the Old Testament.
 - The second part of the Old Testament is called the Historical Books. These books recount how the Chosen People settled in the Promised Land and how they eventually became a kingdom ruled by great and not-so-great kings.
 - The third part of the Old Testament is called the Wisdom Books. These books teach some of the collected wisdom of the Israelites.
 - The fourth part of the Old Testament is called the Books of the Prophets. These contain the warnings and consolations of some of Israel's prophets.
- The New Testament is the second major section of the Bible. Its books tell how God fulfilled the Old Testament promises by sending us the Savior, Jesus Christ.
 - The first part of the New Testament is the four Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles. The Gospels have the stories about Christ's life and teaching, and the Book of Acts tells us about how the Church spread after Christ's Ascension.
 - The second part of the New Testament is the Letters. Early Church leaders sent these letters, some to certain individuals and others to specific Christian communities.
 - The last book of the New Testament is the Book of Revelation. It is a unique collection of prophecies and symbolic visions.

These sections can be referred to when the children look up passages in the Bible with comments, such as, "This Bible story is from the Book of Exodus, which is in the Old Testament of the Bible," or "This Bible story is from the Gospel of Mark. The Gospels have stories about the life of Jesus and the things he taught."

Locating a Passage in the Bible

The system for finding a particular passage in the Bible is simple and explained in the beginning of The Catholic Children's Bible in the section called "How to Find a Bible Passage." After explaining this system to the children, teachers can assist them in developing the skill of locating Bible passages through practice, practice, practice! This skill will take time for children to master, but it is a crucial skill for lifelong Bible reading. Help in teaching navigation skills to children can be found in the article "Helping Children Navigate The Catholic Children's Bible," included in each teacher guide and in this online director's manual.

Helping Children Know and Understand the Biblical Story of Salvation History

Because of our Lectionary-based liturgies, Catholics are often familiar with most of the important people and stories of history. But if liturgies are a person's only contact with Scripture, they may not see how those individual stories fit into the overarching biblical story of God's covenant relationship with the human race, which we also call salvation history. Much of Catholic theology is based on the presumption that we know and understand the overarching story of salvation history.

Salvation history is often organized into different periods to help us understand God's saving work. In all relevant Saint Mary's Press® resources, eight historical periods are named to describe the arc of salvation history:

1. Primeval History (the figurative stories in the Book of Genesis)
2. The Patriarchs (Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob)
3. Egypt and the Exodus (Moses and the desert experience of Israel)
4. Settling the Promised Land (Joshua and the Twelve Tribes of Israel)
5. The Kingdoms of Judah and Israel (the time of the Prophets)
6. The Exile and Return (the Babylonian captivity and restoration of the Temple)
7. The Life of Jesus Christ
8. The Early Christian Church

Understanding how each biblical book's story fits into this bigger history is the mark of a truly biblically literate person. This kind of knowledge grows with repetition and review. Teachers can best help children develop this knowledge by exposing them to key people and events in Scripture. The Catholic Children's Bible helps to do this by focusing on 125 key people and events in the featured Bible stories on two-page spreads. Using these featured Bible stories consistently with children will provide them an excellent foundation for knowing and understanding salvation history.

Context Goal:

Helping Children Understand How to Interpret Bible Books and Passages in Their Proper Contexts

The Context goal is more subtle and complex than the Access and Big-Picture goals. Teachers typically do not work on the skills required to master this goal with children. It requires a level of abstract thinking that this age-group is not yet capable of. However, teachers need to understand this goal in order to teach children the correct interpretation of the biblical stories they read.

This excerpt from the Second Vatican Council document Divine Revelation describes how to correctly interpret the Bible:

Seeing that, in sacred scripture, God speaks through human beings in human fashion, it follows that the interpreters of sacred scripture, if they are to ascertain what God has wished to communicate to us, should carefully search out the meaning which the sacred writers really had in mind, the meaning which God had thought well to manifest through the medium of their words. (12)

This excerpt states that we must do two things when interpreting a Bible story or teaching. First, we must seek to understand what the original human author intended to communicate. The Church Fathers called this the “literal sense” of Scripture. Second, we must seek to understand what God is revealing through the story or passage. The Church Fathers called this the fuller sense or the “spiritual sense” of Scripture. Often the literal sense and the spiritual sense of a passage are closely related. But in some Scripture passages, God reveals, through the spiritual sense, a deeper and more universal truth than the human author originally understood or intended.

Paragraphs 109–119 of the Catechism of the Catholic Church further explain how to apply these principles. These paragraphs describe the contexts we must consider when interpreting any particular passage of the Bible, which is why we describe this as the Context goal.

- Historical context To understand the full importance or meaning of a certain event, we need to know the larger historical situation the event occurred within.
- Cultural context Sometimes the true meaning of certain actions or words makes sense only when we understand the cultural practices or beliefs of the time.
- Literary genre The Bible is composed of many different types of literature. We must know which type we are reading and realize that each genre has its own rules for interpretation.
- Unity of the whole Bible When taken as a whole, God’s revealed truth is presented in the Bible without error. This is the case in many Old Testament passages, whose Christian meaning can be completely and accurately understood only in light of the New Testament revelation.
- Living Tradition of the Church To fully understand some Bible passages, we must take into account how the Magisterium—the official teaching authority of the Church—has interpreted the meaning of those passages.
- Coherence of the truths of faith When it comes to religious or moral truth, the Bible cannot contradict itself or any other revealed truth of our Tradition.

If we do not interpret the Bible using these contexts, we could easily misinterpret God’s Revelation. This is the danger of biblical fundamentalism, an approach to biblical interpretation that Catholics are cautioned to avoid. In its extreme forms, biblical fundamentalism leads people to false beliefs, such as the belief that God created the universe in six 24-hour days.

Even though teachers will not necessarily mention these different contexts when working with children, the featured Bible stories in The Catholic Children's Bible provide trustworthy tools to help children correctly understand the contexts of 125 Bible stories. The engaging art in The Catholic Children's Bible provides strong visual cues about the human authors' intentions. The Tell It! features provide children the opportunity to retell the stories using the visual prompts so that they begin to process the meaning. And the short Understand It! features explain what God is revealing through the stories, drawing upon the contexts of the unity of the Bible, Tradition, and the coherence of the truths of faith.

Helping Children Navigate The Catholic Children's Bible

Helping children become familiar with the structure of the Bible so that they can easily locate specific books and passages is a foundational part of building biblical literacy. The Catholic Children's Bible offers multiple tools to help children in grades 1–5 more readily navigate the Bible.

Color Coding

When you look at the bottom of The Catholic Children's Bible or open it to any page, you will notice bands of color along the bottoms of the pages. These colors delineate the major sections of the Bible.

| Bible Section | Bible Books | Band Color |
|--|---|------------|
| The Pentateuch (or Torah) | Genesis through Deuteronomy | aqua |
| The Historical Books | Joshua through Second Maccabees | brown |
| The Wisdom Books | Job through Sirach | purple |
| The Books of the Prophets | Isaiah through Malachi | orange |
| The Gospels and the Acts of the Apostles | Matthew through John and the Acts of the Apostles | blue |
| The Letters and Revelation | Romans through Revelation | green |
| Prayer and Bible Helps | back of the book | yellow |

The same colors are shown in the table of contents (pages 3–6) as bands of color behind the name of each section of the Bible. They are also repeated in “The Bible Is Like a Bookshelf” image on page 15 of The Catholic Children's Bible. This image can be helpful in introducing children to the structure of the Bible, and it can be another resource to help them identify where a particular book of the Bible is located.

Page Tabs

You will also notice that the table of contents (pages 3–6) indicates a specific color for each book of the Bible. These colors are matched with tabs that are provided along the sides of each page within the Bible. A chapter number is also included in the tab to indicate the core chapter that is featured on each page.

Finding Specific Passages in the Bible

The article “How to Find a Bible Passage” on page 13 in The Catholic Children's Bible presents the traditional method of finding specific Bible passages by the name of the book, the chapter, and the verse. This is basic information for anyone who wishes to understand Scripture citations and use them to locate a particular Bible passage.

Navigating the Featured Bible Stories

One of the most attractive elements of The Catholic Children's Bible is its featured Bible stories. These stories encapsulate a Scripture story or passage, illustrate it, and surround it with the helpful Understand It!, Live It!, and Tell It! teaching aids. In addition, new or unfamiliar words are printed in bold type and presented with definitions. A full list of the 125 featured Bible stories that are offered within the Bible is presented on pages 7–11 of The Catholic Children's Bible.

When the children encounter a featured Bible story, such as the one presented on page 122, for example, they will see a green leaf at the beginning and end of the Scripture text. This indicates that this is a portion of text repeated from the main body of the Bible. To identify where this text comes from, the children can simply look at the Scripture citation or citations above the Scripture text. In many cases, the text shown for the featured Bible story is a shortened version of a longer Scripture passage. The children can find the “full story” citation in their Bibles and will see two green leaves that indicate where the full story starts and stops (see pages 120–121).

The Dark Passages of Scripture

In helping children read and understand the Bible, teachers must be aware that some Bible stories are not child-friendly. The accounts of incest, rape, genocide, and holy war in the sacred pages of Scripture can come as a surprise for many beginning Bible readers. In his apostolic exhortation "The Word of the Lord" ("Verbum Domini," November 2010), Pope Benedict XVI called these stories the "dark" passages of the Bible. Here is what the Holy Father said regarding these passages:

In discussing the relationship between the Old and the New Testaments, the Synod also considered those passages in the Bible which, due to the violence and immorality they occasionally contain, prove obscure and difficult. Here it must be remembered first and foremost that biblical revelation is deeply rooted in history. God's plan is manifested progressively and it is accomplished slowly, in successive stages and despite human resistance. God chose a people and patiently worked to guide and educate them. Revelation is suited to the cultural and moral level of distant times and thus describes facts and customs, such as cheating and trickery, and acts of violence and massacre, without explicitly denouncing the immorality of such things. This can be explained by the historical context, yet it can cause the modern reader to be taken aback, especially if he or she fails to take account of the many "dark" deeds carried out down the centuries, and also in our own day. In the Old Testament, the preaching of the prophets vigorously challenged every kind of injustice and violence, whether collective or individual, and thus became God's way of training his people in preparation for the Gospel. So it would be a mistake to neglect those passages of Scripture that strike us as problematic. Rather, we should be aware that the correct interpretation of these passages requires a degree of expertise, acquired through a training that interprets the texts in their historical-literary context and within the Christian perspective which has as its ultimate hermeneutical key "the Gospel and the new commandment of Jesus Christ brought about in the paschal mystery."¹ I encourage scholars and pastors to help all the faithful to approach these passages through an interpretation which enables their meaning to emerge in the light of the mystery of Christ. (42)

In this teaching, Pope Benedict XVI emphasized the following points:

- The Bible does not shy away from telling about the worst things that humans do to one another. These are the very things that Jesus Christ came to save us from. Unfortunately, these evil acts continue even into our time.
- The biblical author does not always explicitly say that a particular action is immoral; at the time he was writing, these actions might not have yet been seen as immoral (such as the killing of whole groups of people) or the biblical author may have presumed the reader knew that these were immoral actions (such as Lot's daughters having sexual relations with their drunken father). Because God's Revelation is "manifested progressively" and "is accomplished slowly, in successive stages," the preaching of the prophets and, ultimately, the teaching of Jesus Christ help us see the true moral meaning of these actions.
- Properly understanding these passages requires the help of people trained in biblical interpretation, such as pastors and biblical scholars.

So what does this mean for teachers when it comes to these dark passages of Scripture? The best advice is to avoid these passages completely, because these stories can be too disturbing and confusing for young and innocent minds. The Catholic Children's Bible does not use any of these stories as featured Bible stories, so there is no need to worry about coming across any dark stories when the special two-page spreads are used.
